

Sylvan Dell Publishing

Science and Math through Literature

Ocean Seasons

Sequence sentence strips

Preparation: Cut into sentence strips, laminate if desired, and place in a "center." Have children put the events in order. Children may work alone or in small groups. Cards are in order but should be mixed up when cut apart.

Spring is a burst of color as plants spread their soft, new growth.

Summer is a calm, blue sea.

Autumn winds blow strongly across the sea.

As the winter seas grow colder and colder, northern waters become quiet and clear.

For more fun activities, visit www.SylvanDellPublishing.com!