

Sylvan Dell Publishing
Science and Math through Literature

Baby Owl's Rescue

Sequence sentence strips

Preparation: Cut into sentence strips, laminate if desired, and place in a "center." Have children put the events in order. Children may work alone or in small groups. Cards are in order but should be mixed up when cut apart.

Maddie and Max went outside to play.

They heard a "clacking" noise.

They saw a baby owl on the ground under a tree.

They called their mother to help the bird.

Their mother put on gloves.

She put the baby by the base of the pine tree.

The baby was too small to climb the tree.

Maddie, Max, and their mother filled a wicker basket with small branches.

Firemen arrived in a big truck.

A fireman put the basket and owl up in the tree.

Maddie & Max's mother played a CD of owl noises.

The mother owl found her baby in the basket.

The mother owl left to get food.

The mother owl returned with a mouse for the baby.

For more fun activities, visit www.SylvanDellPublishing.com!